Flintshire Local Voluntary Council (FLVC)

Our Vision:

FLVC's vision is of a strong sustainable and effective voluntary and community sector, involving and serving Flintshire people.

Our Mission:

FLVC's mission is to support, develop and promote voluntary and community activity in Flintshire and to strengthen the capacity of voluntary and community groups to contribute to the quality of life of Flintshire people and communities.

Welcome to the latest edition of Voluntary Voice.

This year has been a time of celebration of our work (including our 20th Birthday) but also a time of sadness and reflection, as we have lost our friend Lynne Rowlands who sadly passed away in September. Many of you will have met and worked with Lynne and the memories shared over the past few weeks have reminded us what a lovely lady she was, and also how precious health and happiness is to us all.

Lynne attended our 20th Birthday celebrations in July, which were attended by many previous FLVC friends and colleagues. Afternoon tea followed live music from "Blues Face". Much has changed in FLVC over the years, and we continue to seek to adapt and improve our services to meet the needs of the groups and individuals we are here to support. Keep telling us what we need to be doing and how we should be doing it!

Our Third Sector Conference this year focussed on Co-Production. Representatives from Betsi Cadwaladr University Health Board, Public Health Wales, Flintshire Public Services Board, Flintshire's Early Help Hub, Co-Production Network Wales and Glyndwr University helped us to share information on current initiatives affecting (and involving) residents of Flintshire and North Wales as a whole. We had over 100 attendees and feedback was that the event was informative and productive.

Thank you to everyone who attended our Annual General Meeting. In addition to the formal business, we had the privilege to welcome a number of special guests. Cllr Brian Hughes, Chairman of Flintshire County Council joined us in celebrating the Tom Jones Award for Young Volunteers. Well done to Amy Hallows, Caitlin Sandall, Daniel Gunner, David Moorhead, Emily Hodgson, Erica Hunt, Hannah Carrington, Josh Williams, Kirsty-Ann Hughes, Morgan Abbott, Olivia Clarke, Rhian Williams, Richard Allan and Seren Price, who all received certificates to recognise the time they give to help others.

Erin a Meg (Clwb Clocswyr Garmon) entertained us with a demonstration of the Clog dancing that they teach to other young people (in their own time) and Alex Lowery gave an inspiring talk on his personal experience of working and volunteering as a young man with Autism.

Following our Investing in Volunteers Award earlier this year, FLVC staff and trustees are working towards achievement of the PQASSO Quality Standard. It is vital that we assess, review and adapt our work regularly to ensure we are providing an efficient and effective service.

Our staff team look forward to catching up with you soon. The kettle is on.

Best wishes

Ann

Comic Relief Core Strength Local Communities Programme

Aims:

This programme is responding to the growing need of small locally led groups to cover their day to day costs. The aim is to provide funding for groups' core costs - meaning expenditure that is not connected to delivering projects but focusing on investing in the organisation as a whole, such as basic running costs. We know securing core funding can be tough and want to use this programme to help support those doing much needed work in their local communities.

People living in areas of disadvantage or who face social issues often get vital support from smaller local groups based within their communities. It is these locally based groups that truly understand the needs of the people they serve and make a huge difference to their lives.

The Grant shall be used to support groups that can evidence a sustained beneficial impact on people's lives who are excluded or disadvantaged; this may be through low income, rural or social isolation, age, disabilities, race, sexuality or gender. Priority is to be given to small, locally based groups or organisations in areas of disadvantage that have a clear understanding of the needs of their community and are undertaking actions as a means of addressing these needs.

Awards Available:

- Grants of between £1,000 and £5,000 will be available.

When can you apply?

- The programme will have a deadline:
- 30th March 2018

We are open for applications from a month prior to the deadline. Applicants will be informed of the outcome within 2 months of the deadline.

An Online Application Form is available on the Community Foundation in Wales website. Please note if you submit your application outside the above time period your application will be ineligible.

Groundwork - New Programme

Engage 1 Advance 2 is an innovative TWO PART programme creating new opportunities for 16 – 24 year olds in Wrexham and Flintshire

1. As part of ENGAGE 1 young people will successfully complete a two week intense employability course. On successful completion some will progress and become a 'Groundwork Achiever' moving on to the next stage of the programme.

2. ADVANCE 2 consists of us working alongside local businesses and third sector organisations to create paid work placements for our GROUNDWORK ACHIEVERS who will all be 'work ready' and raring to start.

GROUNDWORK ACHIEVERS will get an invaluable opportunity and experience and will be paid National Minimum Wage for 16 or 24 weeks (for minimum 30 hours per week). We will work to ensure their placement, employer and job role is mutually suitable for both themselves and the employer.

At the end of the programme we would hope continued employment could be an option for our Groundwork Achievers; however where this isn't possible we would support them in entering an apprenticeship, alternative employment or further learning/training.

This programme is funded through the European Social Fund and as with all ESF Funding there is an eligibility criteria that participants have to meet. We will assess individual referrals as and when they happen.

Our plan is to run our first Engage 1 week commencing 4th December with the plan to start our first work placement opportunities in January 2018.

My colleague Kay Harrison is going to be co-ordinating the project, she or I would be happy to come and talk to you, your colleagues, teams and any young people you are working with currently or have done in the past who you feel could benefit from this programme.

For more information please call us on 01978 757524 and speak to myself or Kay or email lisa.jones@groundworknorthwales.org.uk or kay.harrison@groundworknorthwales.org.uk

It was with immense sadness that we learnt of the passing of our dear former colleague and friend, Lynne Rowlands, on Monday 25th September.

Lynne was so well-known and respected throughout the voluntary sector in Flintshire and beyond and gave so much to everyone she came into contact with - volunteers, fellow professionals and friends. We were overwhelmed with contributions towards our memory book that we wanted to give to her family to let them know what a huge contribution she made here at FLVC and within the voluntary sector throughout Flintshire. This is a short poem written by our former Chief Officer, Kieran Duff, which sums up Lynne's sweet spirit, enthusiasm and loving nature.

Monday mornings Lynne Rowlands arrives
 Three new ideas, we're bleary-eyed
 Let's try this, what about that
 Before you know it, out of a hat
 She pulls another clever project.
 We're in awe so just can't reject.
 Off she gallops trailing us behind,
 Money no problem, funding she'll find.
 People who often felt a little bit down
 Suddenly see their lives turning around.
 Heart brimming with generosity
 Lynne was a whirlwind of positivity
 Nothing a problem, answers with ease,
 We'll always feel her gentle breeze

Celebrating achievements of young people in county

Groups came together on 27th September to celebrate the volunteering achievements of young people on the Resilience Project and the 14-19 Pathways in the Glanrafon Centre, Mold. The celebration displayed some of the work and photographs of young people working with Woodwork to Wellness, Wisdom of Equus, Greenfield Valley, Mold Community Garden and Days Inn Hotel, as well as work done in the Glanrafon Centre in the way of art murals, cooking, craft and IT.

The afternoon was well attended with a tea party theme seeing all tucking into sandwiches, scones and tea and coffee. Attendees included the young people, FLVC staff and Trustees, representatives from the education service in Flintshire, as well as the afore mentioned third sector organisations. Along with the displays there was a slide show and a come and try yoga session with Jill Blandford. The celebration was funded by the Youth Led Grant via the Youth Are Funders Panel and all involved would like to say a big thank you to them..

It's amazing what you can do when you're a Shining Light

Vy Cochran, who worked for more than 10 years as Community Development Project Officer with Wales & West Housing, has now joined the charity Shine as a development worker.

Shine provides specialist support from before birth and throughout the life of anyone living with spina bifida and/or hydrocephalus, as well as to parents, families, carers and professional care staff.

Vy will be working with colleagues across Wales to deliver the Shining Lights service, which aims to build a wide programme of support for anyone in Wales whose life is affected by spina bifida and hydrocephalus.

These complex, life-threatening conditions often go together, although hydrocephalus can also occur later in life. Symptoms may be hidden or misunderstood, and can affect a person's mobility, coordination, thinking, memory and quality of life. The increased life expectancy brought about by medical advances is also bringing with it new health challenges with age.

Shine works to enable members to access quality services, education and lifelong opportunities. The new Shining Lights service is supported by funding from the Big Lottery Wales.

Magi Ann wins national award

Welsh icon Cerys Matthews, pays Magi Ann a surprise visit

Magi Ann received a very special visitor during one of her Story and Song on the 29th of August. Those attending the session were surprised to see Magi Ann being led into the session at Wrexham Library by famous singer Cerys Matthews. Cerys and the BBC cameras came to announce the good news, that the Magi Ann app had won the Best Education Project in the 2017 National Lottery Awards.

The project received their National Lottery Award along with a £5,000 prize at a glittering Award Ceremony that was broadcast on BBC One across Britain.

These Awards are held annually and gives the British public the opportunity to vote for their favourite projects funded by the National Lottery. The Magi Ann app reached the Awards short list out of 1,300 nominations, and were the only Welsh language project to reach the final round.

Gill Stephen, Menter Iaith Fflint a Wrecsam Chief Officer said:

"Because of their close involvement with local communities the Mentrau Iaith are in a unique position to be able to create suitable resources to meet the needs of the areas they work in. This award is a tribute to the local community here who have been an invaluable source of help and support throughout the project. I would like to thank everyone who voted for us and gave us the opportunity to introduce the Welsh language, which is an integral part of the lives of the people of Wales, to so many people across the other countries within the UK."

COMMUNITY

By today, the apps have been downloaded over 100,000 times and are popular recourses in schools and in homes across Wales. They are also used across the world, with families from Japan to Patagonia and from America to Sweden learning to read Welsh with Magi Ann and her friends.

Singer, songwriter, author, and broadcaster Cerys Matthews said:

"The Magi Ann apps are so much fun! They bring these beloved Welsh books to a new audience, helping parents and children learn Welsh together, making a big difference to learners across Wales and beyond.

"Many Welsh speakers have fond memories of the books, and now, thanks to these apps, anyone in the world can enjoy them.

"They fully deserve this National Lottery Award - National Lottery players should be very proud to have helped fund the magical Magi Ann."

Caerwys Brown Owl's Award

A note from Judith at Caerwys Brownies:

Recently I had the pleasure of attending the FLVC (Flintshire Local Voluntary Council) AGM. Kirsty Hughes had been nominated for the "Tom Jones Award" – for Outstanding Contribution to Volunteering. Along with 13 other nominees, Kirsty was presented with a certificate and book voucher. It was then announced that the winner of the Annual Trophy was indeed our very own Brown Owl - Kirsty!

The Chief Officer of FLVC read out a glowing commendation and then together with last years winner presented her with the Trophy.

This is what the Chief Officer, Ann Woods of FLVC, had to say in her speech re Kirsty :

"Kirsty volunteers for Girl Guiding West Flintshire. She is described as an inspirational and exceptional Leader, being Brown Owl of a thriving Brownie Unit in Caerwys.

Kirsty never misses meetings – her Brownie activities are engaging, full of fun and meet the Guiding commitment to provide a safe place filled with opportunities for young girls to learn new skills and grow as individuals".

Well done Kirsty – well deserved!

Resilient Communities : A Third Sector Perspective

WCVA has been working with members and a range of partners to develop proposals on developing more resilient communities. Within this, we're particularly interested in what needs to happen to achieve more empowered communities. We have shared these proposals with Welsh Government in the form of a paper from the third sector.

What did we do?

We have worked with a range of third sector networks in Wales to stimulate discussion within the sector. These include BAME Alliance, Children in Wales, CWVYS, DTA Cymru, Interfaith Council for Wales, Third Sector Support Wales, Urdd Gobaith Cymru and Wales Equality Group. We've also drawn on the knowledge, experience and networks of our Communities First Support Service.

To support initial ideas, we developed a joint discussion paper with Talwrn. This had a number of questions to help get us thinking. We hope it will also be useful for other groups to develop their own thinking.

We hosted a number of discussion sessions online and face to face over the summer and autumn of 2017. These were opportunities to share and discuss different ideas from across and beyond the sector. This included our panel debate at WCVA's stand at the 2017 Eisteddfod, which is now available to view.

We launched a series of blogs on the theme of resilient communities, beginning with a look at how community anchors can be key to local action. We love to hear feedback, so if you have any thoughts, please leave a comment on a blog or email help@wcva.org.uk.

We're also keen to link with others working in this area. If you are, please get in touch. For example, we've hosted two roundtable sessions with Carnegie UK Trust to discuss implications from their Turnaround Towns work for towns in Wales.

We will continue to monitor developments in this area, and let the sector know about any further opportunities to get its voice heard by Welsh Government.

How Good Is Your Governance?

During Trustee's Week and Safeguarding Week, Third Sector Support Wales partners delivered events in Baglan and Conwy for trustees and third sector organisations to raise awareness of the principles of good governance, and provide the most up to date information, tools and guidance to support charities to improve practices.

The Charity Commission spoke about the seven principles of good governance of the UK Charity Governance Code, which supersedes its previous guidance on 'The Hallmarks of an Effective Charity'.

Read a blog from Rosie Chapman, Chair of the UK good governance code steering group, encouraging organisations to adopt the Code and make a public commitment to the principles. PQASSO for Wales was promoted as a practical process for organisations to work through to strengthen governance, and free WCVA resources, Faith and hope don't run charities (trustees do) and the Governance health check were recommended as useful tools.

Workshops were held to identify good practice and common challenges with participants confirming that more information is needed to keep trustee knowledge up to date, peer support, and trustee recruitment and diversity, reflecting the key findings of a major report published by the Charity Commission this week Taken on Trust: the Awareness and Effectiveness of Charity Trustees in England & Wales.

Feedback gathered from the workshops will help inform our ongoing programme of support on good governance. TSSW is also interested in inviting organisations to register their interest in future discussions and focus groups. We want to know more your ideas on good governance, the challenges you face and what support is needed to improve governance. If you would like to 'have your say' please contact Sara Sellek, Assistant Director at WCVA via our Helpdesk 0800 2888 329 or help@wcva.org.uk

Third Sector Support Wales is a network of support organisations for the whole of the third sector in Wales. It consists of the 19 local and regional support bodies across Wales, the County Voluntary Councils (CVCs) and the national support body, Wales Council for Voluntary Action (WCVA).
