About the organisation:

North East Wales Mind is a progressive mental health organisation that supports people experiencing mental health difficulties to flourish. The aim of our work is to help people build on their strengths, overcome obstacles, and become more in control of their lives. We have faith and optimism in our clients and so the services we deliver are built around their needs. We support the people of Flintshire and Wrexham to discover their own resources to 'recover' from periods of poor mental health, and to live life independently with their mental health condition.

We are an iCAN Hub iCAN: Hubs - Betsi Cadwaladr University Health Board, iCAN provides easy access to services in the community that can support you with issues that are affecting your mental health and wellbeing.

iCAN Values:

To improve mental health services and outcomes for people, and deliver excellent care. Put patients first, Work together, Value and respect each other, Learn and innovate, Communicate openly and honestly.

iCAN Aims:

- Give a voice to people with lived experience
- Shift focus of care to prevention and early intervention
- Empower people to maintain their mental health and well being
- Encourage open and informed to deliver a trauma informed service

Purpose of role:

With an understanding of the level of acuity iCAN services can provide for people, the iCAN Connector will provide access to low level (Tier 0) mental health support service for clients with mild/moderate mental health problems. They will organise direct access to an iCAN Community Hub to provide support.

The role of the iCAN Connector is to ensure people in their communities access support at the right time in the right place. Alongside offering a range of low level psychological therapy, trauma informed interventions and evidence-based techniques.

Alongside you will be responsible for delivering a range of low-level psychological therapy, trauma informed interventions and evidence-based techniques, to include Supported Self Help.

The connector will work alongside practitioners within Primary care such as Occupational Therapists, Mental Health Practitioners and other Allied Health Professionals to quickly assesses the needs of the client using a 'What Matters' conversation. The connector will provide access and links to a wide variety of services, such as targeted self-help support for issues such as depression, anxiety, grief and loss, isolation and loneliness, as well as work with partners to address social needs such as connectivity to their community, debt and housing needs.

Receive and communicate complex and sensitive information in situations which may be highly emotive, and where barriers to acceptance and understanding may need to be overcome, requiring developed communication and empathic skills.
Help to maintain and update the performance monitoring management system hosted by each iCAN Hub.

Provide education and advice to GPs, and support statutory and voluntary providers of care and other primary care agencies as appropriate.

To maintain and update client records in accordance with North East Wales Mind guidelines.

To participate as necessary where there is notification of serious concern in all safeguarding processes in accordance to All Wales Safeguarding policy and guidelines.
Use appropriate communication methods to ensure effective support and therapeutic engagement with patients when discussing complex or sensitive issues, which may result in emotional responses from patients, where understanding may be limited or there may be barriers to understanding.

Provide evaluation reporting information agreed with the Service Manager to ensure that the most important impacts and outcomes of the iCAN support service can be measured.

Job Description:

Main Duties and Responsibilities:

- Provide comprehensive initial coordination of the iCAN low level mental health support for the Local Primary Service and the iCAN Community Hub.
